New Home of Billings, the Piano Dealer, Is Now on the Boulevard

The New Residential Piano Salesrooms of the F. G. Billings Piano Co., 1429 E. Boulevard, Cor. Austin. (Formerly 102 N. Stanton.)

R. F. G. BILLINGS purchased the above property recently, following along the lines of successful piano merchants in the north, who have purchased residential property and converted it into piano warercoms. Not only being able to dodge the high rent, but he has acquired ample room a complete stock of planos and facilities for demonstrating that a downtown wareroom would not afford. A prospective piano customer may choose from a variety of makes and styles without the confusion of the city noise and interruptions, and also be able to see and hear the instrument as it would look and sound in his own home, and incidentally save a tidy sum of money on the purchase price, as, through Mr. Billings's low selling expense, he can quote lower prices for quality instruments.

Mr. Billings claims that his best salesmen are his many satisfied customers. Some of the high grade planes, players, orchestrions and phonographs sold exclusively by him are: Win, Knabs & Co., Seybold, Chase & Baker, Prescott, Billings & Sons, Peerless, Colonial and others, all of which have been proved to be admirably adapted to this "dry climate."—(Advertisement.)
